WASHINGTON TELEGRAMS.

A BILL TO ABOLISH UNNECESSARY CUSTOMS DISTRICTS.

Ways and Means Offer a Substitute for Mr. Breckinridge's Bill—Considering Fortification Measures—Nominations—The Interstate Commerce Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The house committee on ways and means have agreed to substitute for the bill of Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, abolishing unnecessary customs districts and officers. It contains none of the administrative features of the original bill; abolishes sixty ports, leaving seventy-five; dispenses with one hundred employees, and saves annually to the government $100,000.

It proposes the abolition of the following districts: Maine—Belfast, Castine, Frenchman's Bay, Kennebec, Machias, Saco, Waldo, Wiscasset, York. Massachusetts—Newburyport, Gloucester, Marblehead, Barnstable, Edgartown, Nantucket and Plymouth. Rhode Island—Bristol, Warren and Newport. Connecticut—Bridgeport (district of Fairfield), Stonington. New York—Dunkirk, Patchogue, Port Jefferson, Sag Harbor, New Jersey—Bridgeton, Burlington, Great Egg Harbor, Little Egg Harbor, Newark. Maryland—Annapolis and Eastern district. Virginia—Alexandria, Cherry-stone, Petersburg, Tappanhook and Richmond. North Carolina—Albemarle, Beaufort and Pamlico. South Carolina—Georgetown, Georgia—Atlanta, Brunswick and St. Marys. Florida—Fernandina, St. Augustine, St. Marks, Mississippi—Natchez and Vicksburg. Louisiana—Teche. Tennessee—Chattanooga. Illinois—Galena, Iowa—Burlington and Dubuque. Wisconsin—La Crosse. Minnesota—Duluth. California—Humboldt and San Diego. Oregon—Southern Oregon.

Fortification Bill Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The conference committee on the fortifications bill have since the holiday recess held several meetings, and it is understood that there is a strong probability of an agreement being reached. The bill as originally passed by the house appropriated only $170,000. To this the senate added $4,510, not quite one-half of which it was provided should go to the navy and the remainder to be applied to the construction of heavy ordnance for coast defenses. The action of the commercial exchanges and boards of trade in all the large cities demanding action by congress in this important matter of coast defenses has had considerable effect on the house conference committee.

A member of the committee said that he thought an agreement would soon be reached and the bill reported with ample provision for the initiation of a complete and formidable system of coast defenses. The main point now with the house conference is not so much the amount of money to be appropriated, as to be sure that the disbursement of it is put into competent and experienced hands; those who are fully in accord with the modern system of warfare, and not wedded to old and useless methods.

Nominations Sent to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The president sent to the senate the following nominations: To be United States consuls: John T. Campbell, of California, at Auckland; Henry M. Pendleton, of West Virginia, at Southampton; W. T. Cox, to be postmaster at McKinney, Texas. The president has withdrawn the nomination of William W. Merritt to be postmaster at McKinney, Tex.

Reorganizing the Naval Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The house committee on naval affairs has agreed to an amendment to the bill now pending before the house reorganizing and consolidating the naval bureau. The original bill provides that the secretary of the navy shall designate his promotions from the line officers, while the amendment authorizes him to nominate from both the line and staff officers.

Our South American Mail.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A favorable report has been made from the committee on postoffices and postroads, on Senator Fry's bill appropriating $400,000 for American built and registered ships to secure greater frequency and greater speed in the carriage of mails to Brazil, Mexico and Central and South America.

FUNERAL OF JOHN ROACH.

The Last Earthly Remains of the Great Shipbuilder Laid to Rest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The funeral of John Roach took place at 11 o'clock this morning, from the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, Fourth avenue and Twenty-second street. The church was crowded to the door by friends and persons who had known the eminent shipbuilder in life. The pall bearers were George W. Quintard, George E. Wood, C. H. Malloy, James E. Ward, Andrew Fletcher, William Rowland and William Parker, most of whom are connected with large shipping interests and various steamship lines in this city.

The Rev. Dr. McChesney, the rector, conducted the services, assisted by Bishop Harris, of this state, and the Rev. D. Goss. The coffin was placed just outside the chancel. In front of it, but inside the chancel, was an immense floral piece representing the steamship City of Pekin, one of the vessels built by the deceased. The piece was sent by one of the employees of the Morgan Iron works, of which the deceased was lately the owner. On either side of this were two other floral pieces. Delegations were present from the Morgan Iron works, the architectural iron works and the ship yard at Chelster. The remains were interred in Greenwood.

Arrested for Forgery.

WINNEPES, Man., Jan. 14.—Howard T. Blackstone, the defaulting bank clerk of the Canadian National bank, of Portland, Me., was arrested here last night on a charge of forgery, by C. M. Warmil, sheriff of Oxford county, Maine, and a St. Paul detective. Blackstone fled from Portland in November, after defrauding the bank of $76,000. He secured this amount by enlarging checks, and his depredations extended over a period of two years. The money was all spent in speculation. Warmil tracked him by following his wife from Portland here.

SENATORIAL FIGITS.

Another Day of Excitement in the Jersey Capital—Elsewhere.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 14.—In view of the many rumors charging Governor Abbott with having instigated the ejection of legislative officers from the assembly chamber by policemen, Tuesday afternoon, that gentleman, just evening, gave his version of the affair. Governor Abbott says he was waited on by members of the house, who represented to him the disorderly scene in the assembly chamber, and asked his advice. He told them that they had the power of removal, and they replied that the persons engaged in the disorder had resisted their authority. He then suggested that Trenton policemen might be called in to remove all persons not properly in the chamber, and that that ended his connection with the matter.

The situation in connection with the senatorial struggle is not relieved to any extent by yesterday's proceedings in the assembly. Governor Abbott is slightly more hopeful, on account of the seating of Mr. Turley, while Senator Sewell's friends think Mr. Abbott's election out of the question. The name of William Walter Phelps has been suggested as a substitute for Mr. Sewell, as one whom the Labor men of the assembly might more readily support.

At times yesterday afternoon bedlam reigned. Finally a committee of three Republicans, one Laborer and one Democrat was appointed on contested elections, and the house adjourned until Monday. The senate Republicans persisted in their refusal to permit the organization of that body while the contests in the house are unsettled, and adjourned until to-day.

Ernest E. Potter, the labor agitator, is also mentioned as successor to Senator Sewell.

The Struggle Begins in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 14.—The successor of the lamented Logan as senator from Illinois will probably soon be settled. The Republicans of the house and senate will meet in joint caucus, and balloting commence later. Nearly all the candidates were on the ground and all profess themselves hopeful. There will be numerous complimentary votes during the first few ballots, but about the fourth or fifth the caucus will settle down to business. Farwell is conceded to be in the lead, but both Gen. Henderson and Congressman Cannon have considerable strength, while Payson and Hamilton have a following.

Reagan On the Scene.

PALESTINE, Tex., Jan. 14.—Congressman John H. Reagan arrived here at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and spent the day with his family. He left for Austin this morning to open the campaign for the senatorship. The friends of the veteran statesman are enthusiastic over his prospects, while the judge himself feels confident over the result. He denied, however, that the slightest feeling of hostility exists between Gen. Maxey and himself.

In Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 14.—The Republican joint caucus to-day nominated Gen. Joseph R. Hawley for United States senator. The Democrats nominated Hon. Charles R. Ingerson, of New Haven, for senator. Hon. William H. Barnum declined to allow the use of his name in connection with the senatorship.

Indiana Election Muddle in the Courts.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—Green Smith, president pro tem of the senate, has filed quo warranto proceedings against Lieutenant Governor Robertson. Thus the courts may finally decide the vexed question.

Coal Famine in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The scarcity of coal causes increased interruption to business and hardship to the poor. Havemeyer & Elder's large sugar refinery has shut down, being unable to get coal to carry on the business. Eight hundred men are thrown out of work. The Palmer cooperage was also compelled to close, throwing out 600 men. A large number of other establishments will succumb unless the blockade is speedily raised. Coal at retail sells from $7 to $9 per ton in the city yards, and the supply is rapidly diminishing. The situation of the strike does not seem to have materially changed.

The Fatal List Growing.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 14.—The name of Albert C. Ice, of West Virginia, must be added to the list of victims from the Tiffin disaster. George Haight, an engineer on the New York Central, testified that Engineer Eastman, of the express, should have been able to stop his train in half the 140 rods between the two engines, when the headlight first flashed into view. William Pemberton, father of T. O. Pemberton, the young man who was killed in the wreck, will sue the Baltimore & Ohio company for damages.

Another Railroad Wreck at Tiffin.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 14.—There was another railroad wreck here yesterday. As a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train was crossing the Sandusky river, a freight on the Indianaapolis, Bloomington & Western jumped the track at the crossing of the two roads, just east of the river, and before both trains could be stopped nine freight cars had been wrecked and piled in every direction. The passenger engine was damaged. The passengers were badly scared by the shock, but no one was injured.

Drops Dead While Shouting.

ADRIAN, Mich., Jan. 14.—During the progress of a revival meeting last night at the Second Baptist church, Mrs. Susan Brown, colored, jumped to her feet, shouting "Glory Hallelujah!" and then dropped dead. Some minutes passed before the congregation realized the tragedy, and then a scene of great excitement was witnessed. Mrs. Brown was sixty-five years old, and was formerly a slave.

All Quiet at Newport News.

NEWPORT NEWS, Jan. 14.—Everything is quiet here. The striking stevedores are still out, and all hostile demonstration on their part has evidently been prevented by the presence of three military companies, who are still zealously guarding the quays and the new men who are at work.

Another Suit From the Tilden Horror.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Joseph Postlethwaite, who lost her husband and two sons in the Baltimore & Ohio wreck, will begin suit against the company for $25,000 damages.

THIS BEATS THE RECORD.

THE PAST TEN DAYS IN SOUTHERN ENTERPRISES.

Besides the Anniston Sale There Are Scores of Transactions Which Show That the Industrial Growth of the Southern States Has Only Just Begun.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 14.—The Manufacturers' Record for this week will publish further details of manufacturing enterprises in the south. It will say: The most stupendous transaction yet recorded is the sale of the immense property of the Woodstock Iron and Steel company and the Anniston Land and Improvement company, of Anniston, Ala. These two corporations, which owned a large part of the town of Anniston, two furnaces, 50,000 acres of mineral lands, etc., have sold their property for $9,000,000.

With this sale arrangements were completed for the immediate construction of two coke furnaces of one thousand tons capacity each week, and the building of a railroad from Anniston to Gadsden. Birmingham capitalists have organized a $1,000,000 company to build two furnaces near Anniston, and many other enterprises are projected. The last ten days have given birth to more great enterprises in the south than was ever before seen in the same length of time. Among these, in addition to the Anniston deal, are the Bessemer Land and Improvement company, capital $2,500,000, organized at Birmingham to build up the new town of Bessemer, where two furnaces are under construction and a steel plant projected. This company has appropriated $500,000 to assist in building up other industries at Bessemer.

At Decatur, Ala., $1,000,000 in cash was subscribed within a day or two, and more refused for the development of iron and other interests at that place. In Nashville a $700,000 company has purchased a large tract of land adjoining the city, on which two furnaces and other iron industries are to be built. At Athens, Ala., a $500,000 company has been organized to build up manufacturing. In Jackson county, Alabama, an immense tract of mineral land has been sold to Hon. J. F. Brown and others who will build a railroad and develop this property. The Napier furnace property in Lawrence county, Tennessee, was sold for $50,000 to E. W. Cole and others, who will improve it and engage in iron manufacturing.

A $250,000 company has been organized in Birmingham to establish a tannery and a boot and shoe factory. A purchase has been made of 30,000 acres of land in Perry and Decatur counties, Alabama, by a new company that has been organized to make iron. At Chattanooga a $500,000 company has purchased a large tract of land for improvement for manufacturing purposes. A $100,000 wagon factory company is being organized in Birmingham, and at Scottsboro, Ala., a $40,000 iron and steel company has been chartered. The Bertha Zinc works, of Southwest Virginia, have been sold to a new company, which will have a capital stock of $3,000,000.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man Fatally Burned by Having Burned Benzine Poured Over Him.

LIMA, O., Jan. 14.—A horrible accident happened at the Solar refinery, on the Hoover farm, that may result in the death of Robert Halsey. Robert Halsey and Tiffany Rail were in one of the stills putting on the plates around the manhead, on the top of the still. A rivet heater was on the top of the tank on the outside heating the plates so that they could be riveted together without breaking. He had placed a plate in position, and pouring some benzine on it, set fire to it. Picking up a bucket filled with benzine, he poured some of the contents on the plate, and before he could get the bucket away the contents were on fire. He threw the blazing bucket from him and fled.

Unfortunately the fiery bucket fell through the manhead, the burning contents falling over Halsey and Rail. The former was standing near the manhead and received the greater part of the burning fluid on the head and shoulders. Halsey and Rail sprang from the still to the bottom of the still. Halsey's clothing was saturated with the benzine, and he was ablaze in an instant. Rail tried to tear Halsey's clothing from him, but after having his hands and arms frightfully burned, gave up the attempt, and told Halsey to jump through a manhead at the end of the still, which he did, falling some fifteen feet. In doing so his body struck against some lumber, injuring him so that he lay a burning mass until some of the other employees ran to his aid, and by rolling him in the snow extinguished the flames that were consuming him. His wounds were bathed in oil immediately, and he was given all proper care, but he cannot live, and is suffering indescribable agony.

Another Clew.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 14.—Another supposed clew relative to the Crouch murder was received yesterday by ex-Governor Blair and Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Pringle, from the sheriff at St. Ignace, who states that there is a prisoner there named Gibson, who claims he can give a clew to the Crouch murderers, and that he has been liberally paid to remain away. Officers will investigate.

Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide.

MILLERSBURG, O., Jan. 14.—Frederick Huffman, a German of this place, has made two unsuccessful attempts to hang himself in the last two weeks, but was discovered in time. His son got into trouble at Columbus by being charged with theft, and this bothers the father.

Dwelling Damaged by Fire.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 14.—The residence of Dr. Dinnon, on West Wayne street, took fire yesterday evening from a hot air furnace, and was damaged to the extent of $1,000; fully insured in the Alliance, of New York, and Phoenix, of Brooklyn.

The Tilden Will Contest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Mr. Ledyard, of the counsel for the Tilden trustees, stated that his clients had never given him any reason to suppose that they were inclined to make a compromise with the heirs who are contesting the will.

JOHN M. WILSON HUNG.

The Murderer of Anthony Dally Pays the Legal Penalty of His Crime.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—John M. Wilson, the self-confessed murderer of Farmer Anthony Dally, was hanged in the corridor of the Norristown jail at 2:30 this afternoon. Less than fifty persons witnessed the execution. He made a detailed confession of the crime and wrote a farewell address, which he delivered from the scaffold by permission of the sheriff. The address is headed: "The original farewell address of John M. Wilson," and is prefaced with these words:

"Faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful."

Wilson began addressing himself to the "Gentlemen of Norristown," and said, among other things: "I stand upon the brink of a never-ending eternity in terrible disgrace, and, barring the sympathy of a few Christian people, absolutely friendless in America. This, though the saddest, is one of the happiest hours of my life. I have been born again—converted into God. I am as humble as a little child. I love Him and all His people. A voluntary and true repentance, and almost unceasing prayers of faith, have carried the fangs of Satan by storm, and the victory (which is the gift of God) is mine."

"There is no need of a new confession. When delirious with whisky I struck poor Dally and killed him outright. The fear of death by violence caused me to cover my crime. Having suffered with delirium tremens and the horrors, a combination of facts which, after I came here, had a tendency to advance the theory to my mind that it was possible for me to be guilty of a fearful delusion; this, coupled with the belief of many that I could not be convicted, caused me to plead not guilty, simply as a safeguard in case of an acquittal. I harbor no ill feelings against neither judge nor the commonwealth."

Wilson then told of his first steps in the downward path, and says that it is not natural to be a Christian. We quote:

"You must pull against the current of nature. Balls, theaters, dancing parties, drinking liquor, gambling and all that pleases wicked people are offensive to God. I used to love them. I hit them all now. Charity balls are nothing but white aprons for the devil. Almost six years ago I said the last good-bye to my dear old mother when I left my home with a Bible which had been placed in my trunk by her. If I had but heeded her Christian advice I would not have been here. To-day she sits broken-hearted and disgraced, fully sixty years of age, and weeps bitter tears over her boy's terrible doom."

Wilson devoted eighteen pages to proving the existence of God, and many other pages in depicting the horrors of a drunkard's life. He concluded his address as follows:

"When my strangled body hangs between heaven and earth may all who look upon it imagine they hear me say: 'This is the work of ruin. Is it nothing to you, all, ye that pass by?'"

He made a will last Saturday, in which he directed that his body be given a decent burial. This was on account of the reported contest between Norristown physicians to secure the body for dissection.

On Sunday, October 4, 1884, a peculiar-looking little man walked into police headquarters in Chicago, and to Lieut. John D. Shay said that he was a murderer. He said that he had killed a man named Anthony Dally near Philadelphia in January, and after sewing the body in sacks had thrown it in the Wissahickon creek. The next day he repeated the same story, but in more detail. He said he had been employed by Anthony Dally for several months on a farm near Philadelphia.

He quarreled with Dally about $30 which was due him, and then picking up a cleaver struck the man on the head, killing him instantly. He then cut off the victim's head and hid it between two feather beds, dragged the body to the barn and cutting off the legs and arms hid them in a feed box. Then he went to the creek and selected a place in which to throw the dissected body. That night he put the body in a bag along with a lot of stones.

The body and limbs were placed in other sacks, and with the aid of a sleigh and horse Wilson took his ghastly load to the place selected and threw it overboard. He then went to Philadelphia, and after spending his money in drink returned to the house and set it on fire. It was entirely destroyed, and he said Dally's family supposed that he was burned in it.

It was not remembered by the police or the fire department of Philadelphia that any such fire had occurred, but upon further investigation it was learned that a man by the name of Dally had disappeared and that his house had been burned about the time Wilson gave, and other things were discovered which corroborated his story in many particulars.

The crime having been committed in Montgomery county the officials of that county had Wilson taken there and he was lodged in the Norristown jail October 11th. That day the cleaver with which the murder had been committed was found in the ruins of the barn. Wilson, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty, notwithstanding his confessions.

AFTER a test of over fifteen years there can be little question as to the durability of the celebrated Diamond lens spectacles, and while they preserve the sight their lasting qualities are such as to make frequent changing unnecessary. The genuine are for sale by Ballenger.

THOMAS WOOD, Jr., of Fleming, wanted Miss Shepherd, of Sherburne, to elope with him the other day, but she didn't have any desire to join Tommie in his trip to Aberdeen, or anywhere else. The application of N. Gollenstein for a coffee house license was granted.

Mr. Cox called the attention of the council to the water plugs, and asked if there was any ordinance requiring that they should be inspected. He said property owners would sleep a little better, if they knew that the plugs were in good working order, so that no delay would be caused in case of a fire.

Mr. Mathews thought the water company was required to see to such affairs. Marshal Hedlin was instructed to attend to the matter.

In regard to the length of the span at the foot of Market street for the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad, Mr. Thomas thought it ought to be sixty-six feet, and not less than forty feet. He was satisfied a thirty-three foot span would interfere with travel to and from the wharf. Mr. Mathews said the committee had looked into the matter carefully and decided a thirty-three foot span would occasion but little interference. The matter was referred to the Internal Improvement Committee to confer with Colonel Childs, chief engineer.

An account of Reitz & Co., in favor of Dr. G. M. Williams for rock, amounting to $63.75, less freight, was allowed.

Thompson's Crooked Work.

Deputy Marshal Dawson returned last night from Lewis County, where he had been in search of John S. Thompson, who is wanted on the charge of obtaining money and goods under false pretenses. The accused hails from Boyd or Greenup County, but has been employed on the railroad near Vanceburg for some time. Sunday (9th instant) he engaged a wagon and pair of mules of Matt McNeal, of Vanceburg, to bring a load to this city. Monday (County Court day) he tried to sell the team to a number of our livery men, finally applying to Messrs. James & Wells. Thompson had always borne a good reputation, and Marshal Hedlin, who had known him for some time, told Messrs. James & Wells that he was all right. A bargain was struck and they bought the mules for $110. Thompson instructed them to ship the wagon and harness to Catlettsburg as soon as navigation was resumed.

Shortly afterwards, Thompson ran across Mr. W. H. Ambrose, who is selling the Diamond Fence Machine. The accused concluded the machine was a good thing, and Mr. Ambrose closed a trade with him, Thompson to get the county right of Boyd and Greenup counties, two machines and one model, Ambrose to get the wagon and harness and the $110, the price of the mules, which was still in the hands of James & Wells. Thompson, in addition, was to receive $20 in cash, and this mule of the $110 was paid to Mr. Ambrose by James & Wells, and turned over to the accused.

On the latter's return to Vanceburg, he told Mr. McNeal that a party here in Maysville wanted to buy the team, and gave him the terms of the proposition. This was news to McNeal and he politely informed Thompson that he was still able to dispose of his own property when he wanted to sell. When the accused saw which way the wind was blowing, he got away from Vanceburg. McNeal came here and when he learned the true state of affairs, Deputy Marshal Dawson was started on the hunt for Thompson, but the search hadn't proved successful up to last evening. Mr. McNeal returned to Vanceburg yesterday with his team.

OLD WORLD DISPATCHES.

A DOZEN BRIGANDS ATTEMPT TO RAID A MONASTERY.

They Are Driven Off By Monks, but Not Until Three of the Abbot's Protectors Are Wounded—Gendarmes in Pursuit of the Ruffians—Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—An exciting scene occurred at the Montefiore monastery, in the vicinity of Narbonne, early yesterday evening. A dozen brigands hastily descended upon the vicinity and scaled the monastery walls. They were well armed with daggers and revolvers. The father superior, who was resting quietly in his room, was surprised by a revolver being presented at his head and a ruffian backed by several others, demanded money.

The abbot, not losing his presence of mind, replied: "We are sixty and you are twelve," and springing to a rope near by, rang loudly the chapel bell. The monks suddenly rushed in in response to the alarm, and a short conflict resulted in the flight of the brigands, who fired a volley before they decamped, by which three of the monks were severely wounded. The ruffians captured no treasure. The authorities were promptly warned, and gendarmes are now in pursuit of the robber band.

A Severe Blow to the Ministry.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Times says it can not affect to ignore the fact that the death of Lord Idlesleigh is a serious blow to the ministry and to the Unionist cause. Doubtless, it says, rumors of serious friction between his lordship and his colleagues will obtain increased currency, but the truth has in no degree justified the malevolent guesses of gossipers.

The Standard says: "With the sad honors paid to Lord Idlesleigh will mingle a lively sympathy with the premier, who must feel it as an aggravation of bitterness that in his last days anything should have interfered with the happy relations which bound Lord Idlesleigh to the Conservative cause."

The Telegraph says: "A more honorable, straightforward man than Lord Idlesleigh never sat in either house of parliament."

The Post thinks Lord Idlesleigh's death will unfavorably affect Lord Salisbury's government.

Dynamite Daily Interviewed.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—Daily, the dynamiter, who is undergoing life sentence in the prison at Limerick for complicity in the dynamite outrages of 1884, obtained an interview today with Mr. Abraham, M. P. for Limerick, who has for some time past interested himself in efforts to procure relief for or secure the release of Daily. The latter's health is in a very bad state, and it is not thought that he can live a great while longer. Daily's object in conferring with Mr. Abraham was to obtain his advice concerning a public statement which he purposes making. In this statement Daily wishes to say that he never at any time sympathized with dynamiters, and that he had a violent quarrel with O'Donovan Rossa on this account. His arrest, he declares, was the result of trickery, deception and betrayal of confidence.

Affected by the Earl's Death.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The queen, when informed of the death of the Earl of Idlesleigh was deeply affected, and immediately telegraphed to Lady Idlesleigh and other members of the dead lord's family messages of sympathy and condolence.

Mr. Gladstone, who has always held Lord Idlesleigh in high personal esteem, was also much shocked at receiving the news of his sudden death. To a press association, in reply to a telegram asking for publication an expression of Mr. Gladstone's feelings, Mr. Gladstone wired: "We are sorely grieved at the death of one so eminently respected and so beloved. We must reserve a more particular expression of our feelings."

Outlook Improving.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—The Marquis of Londonderry, viceroy of Ireland, replying to an address presented by prominent residents of Belfast, said: "The outlook is better than it was a few months ago, and this change has been brought about through the patriotic efforts of the chief secretary for Ireland. A real advance has been made by overcoming many difficulties, and I am confident that the efforts of the government will attain a lasting success."

A King Killing Christians.

ROME, Jan. 14.—The propaganda fide has received letters from Catholic missionaries at Onganda, Africa, stating that King Monanga discovered one of his servants studying a Christian catechism, whereupon he ordered the massacre of a hundred negro converts, the most of whom were burned alive. The missionaries further state that King Monanga has declared that he will kill every Christian within his domains.

An Anarchist Sentenced to Death.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—In the assizes today a prisoner named Daval was sentenced to death for burglary and arson. He made a violent Anarchist speech justifying his crime. A large number of Anarchists were present and made a demonstration in approval of the prisoner.

Foreign Notes.

The London Times Berlin dispatch says: "A struggle between Germany and France may yet be averted, but the speeches of Gen. Von Moltke and Prince Bismarck leave no room for doubt that we are on the eve of a recurrence of the conflict era preceding the Danish and Austrian campaigns."

Several of the leading Paris newspapers, including La Temps, regard Prince Bismarck's speech as certain to have a reassuring effect throughout Europe in response to his declarations that Germany has no intention of making a warlike attack upon France.

The Vienna press heartily approves the language of the speeches of Prince Bismarck and Gen. Von Moltke so far as it relates to France, but the passages concerning Austria are not read with much pleasure.

Prince Bismarck's speech in the German reichstag is regarded in Austrian government circles as showing that the German chancellor is trying to effect an entente with the cabinets of St. Petersburg and Vienna.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—The Master Builders' convention completed arrangements yesterday to form a National Builders' Association. A convention for that purpose will be held in Chicago March 29 next. The Boston Builders' association enjoyed a dinner at the Revere house last night. President Whitcomb presided, and among the guests were delegates representing associations in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Paul, Washington, Baltimore and other large cities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Charles Mackenzie, better known as "Old Balaklava," one of the best known men in the upper portion of New York, died at his residence, One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, yesterday morning, of pneumonia. He was born in England, of Scotch parents, sixty-one years ago. His father was a soldier, and he was almost reared in camp. As soon as he became old enough he joined the English army. He was one of the light brigade, the gallant 600 that charged at Balaklava. After his discharge from the English army in 1862 he came to America and joined the United States navy. He was with Commodore Porter on the Mississippi, and took part in several engagements. He was discharged in 1865, and was appointed on the New York police force in 1866. "I want something to cure my cough. I have tried our doctor, and almost every proprietary medicine I ever heard of, but nothing seems to do me any good," a lady said to the clerk in a large drug-store.

"Gooch's Mexican Syrup gives the most general satisfaction of any thing we have ever sold, and is pronounced by some of our most prominent people to be the best remedy for coughs and lung troubles ever put upon the market. We sell more of it than all other cough remedies put together. You see our customers risk nothing in buying, as the proprietors authorize all druggists to guarantee it; so if this does not give you satisfaction, we will refund the money." It has made some remarkable cures," he replied.

A WORD TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Consumptives, because all other things fail, believe not that Gooch's Mexican Syrup will. CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. Tuberculous matter is nothing more than nourishment imperfectly organized. Now, if we can procure the organization of this food material so that through the process of electric affinity it may take its place in the system, we can cure the disease. This is just what Gooch's Mexican Syrup does: It at once stops the progress of the disease by preventing the further supply of tuberculous matter, for while the system is under its influence all nourishment is organized and assimilated. It controls Coughs, Night-Sweats, and all other symptoms of consumption. GOOCH'S MEXICAN SYRUP HAS CURED THOUSANDS AND IT WILL CURE YOU. This remedy is pleasant to the taste, and may be given to children with perfect safety. It affords immediate relief. Clergymen, lawyers and other public speakers will be greatly benefited by using this remedy to clear and strengthen the voice. This medicine is prepared and every bottle warranted by CINCINNATI DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., 64 Main Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists. 50 cts. per bottle. If your medicine dealer hasn't it and won't get it for you, send us 50 cents and we will send a bottle, expressage prepaid to any part of the U. S.
